P. G. & E. COMPANY PLANS NEW REDWOOD CITY SUB-STATION

Walter Kellogg, district manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, announced this week that orders have been approved for the construction of a sub-station here to supply power for the new cement works. The new station will cost approximately $112,000, according to Kellogg, and will make available about 35000 horsepower for the local plant.

The present sub-station which supplies Redwood City will be supplanted in the near future by another station to be built near the site of the one which is to be built for supplying the cement plant. The sub-station here is of the old type and cannot readily be enlarged, it is said, but a new type station will be constructed which may be added to at any time by the addition of more units and thus be made to keep pace with the demands of the territory which it serves.

The erection of the new station will remove the unsightly and dangerous high voltage lines which at present pass through town and will make the tower on the creek unnecessary.

So great has been the increase of power demanded by this vicinity that the present sub-station is now working under an overload, and foreseeing greater growth in the future than ever in the past, Walter Kellogg is anxious to have the new station begun as soon as possible.

The following facts will indicate to some extent the growth which Redwood City and vicinity has experienced:

Ten years ago the local sub-station was supplying 8400 horsepower to local manufacturies. Today the consumption is 15,000 horsepower. This will be augmented by 35000 when the new cement works comes into operation. The approximate number of customers served by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company from the Redwood sub station ten years ago was 1400; today 3500 meters are served by this company. This number is being increased daily. The number added during the past month was 70, these almost represent the number of new families which have been added to the territory served by this station.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has in every way kept pace with the growth and development of the city. Their new building on Broadway is one of the finest in town and was erected six years ago. The new station will be a further improvement for Redwood City, and in line with the uniform custom of this company to improve as well as serve the towns in their territory.

BURNING TRASH CAUSES WHARF BURNING RUMOR

The reports received here Thursday that the new wharf at the cement works had burned down, were caused, according to the superintendant of that place by the fact that large piles of scrap lumber were burned on the beach near the wharf. At a little distance it appeared as thought the wharf itself were in flames. The men who were seen piling the refuse on the fire appeared at a distance like fire fighters.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. WAITE, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Com

THAT cities that advertise persistently are known as live cities.

THAT empty store buildings and houses are not to be found in this class of cities. Industries and population come to them. Real estate values increase rapidly and prosperity is continuous.

THAT the most prosperous cities are those that believe in themselves and tell the world that interesting fact. Every body likes to hear about cities that are alive and growing.

THAT to the city that is a progressive, go-getter yesterday is ancient history.

THAT in some sections vast dormant natural wealth is crying for development. Many of them need money and men to develop them, and only a few of the local people are alive to these opportunities.

THAT the success of a city is not due to one man or any set of men but is due to the fact that every citizen is doing his or her best to help.

THE BEST WAY TO KEEP A CITY MOVING FORWARD IS FOR EVERY CITIZEN TO GET INTO THE GAME OF CITY BUILDING, GET IT ALIVE AND THEN BROADCAST THAT FACT.

TOURIST TRAVEL BEGINS THROUGH REDWOOD CITY

According to C. P. Kern, proprietor of the Redwood City Auto Camp on the highway, the tourist travel is just beginning through Redwood City. So far this year many have stopped at the camp, nearly all, however, have been from other parts of California, and many have stopped here for work. At present, however, the travel from outside of the state is starting. Several cars from neighboring states have stopped at the camp recently, and it is thought that travelers from the East and other sections of the country and Canada will arrive shortly. The auto camp is at present filled to capacity, and Mr. Kern is now contemplating considerable enlargement of his camp in order to accomodate the heavy travel which he expects.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSION CONSIDERS CITY BEAUTIFICATION

At the meeting of the city planning commission of Redwood City held last Monday the question of improving the appearance of the creek through town was given the primary consideration of the board. Plans were outlined for the construction of a drainage culvert between Webster street and the railroad track, along the firehouse property, and the grading of the banks and planting of flowering shrubs along the banks. At present the creek is an eyesore to the town, and in the opinion of the commission it can be made an assett without the expenditure of a large sum of money. At present City Engineer Dimmitt is working on an estimate of the cost of the proposed changes.

The question of securing uniform street trees was also taken up by the planning commission, and a committee with George Hopkins as chairman was appointed to take up the matter of an ordinance regulating the planting of street trees with City Attorney Mansfield.

An ordinance regulating the distance from the front property line at which buildings may be erected in being worked out by the commission, and when in effect will make the "set back" of all buildings on a street uniform. A committee consisting of Trustee A. E. Monteith and City Engineer Dimmitt are working on this matter.

When questioned by the district attorney, Jordan refused to make any statement.

The alledged burglar was arrested by Sacramento police last Sunday on descriptions sent out by the San Mateo police department, and was brought to the jail here Wednesday by Chief Tom Burk of the latter city. Large Business Tract is Being Subdivided

The old baseball field recently purchased from the high school district by Joe Perry, is being subdivided by its new owner and is being put on the market for business property. The tract contains nearly four acres and is being divided into 25-foot lots fronting on Broadway and on the highway. On the side towards the highway a parking space of 18 feet will be built and a new sidewalk laid. A wide alley is being laid out along the rear of the lots for the convenience of purchasers.

It is the plan of Mr. Perry to have nothing but first class business buildings built on this property, and he has asked that the restrictions which are now in force in the fire district of the city be extended to this block. This will prevent any but fire proof buildings being erected.

A large lot on the corner of Broadway and the highway is being reserved by the owner and he will probably erect a fine building there in the not distant future. The remainder of the property is now in the hands of Henry Witte, local realtor and will be sold as soon as the survey and other preliminary work is completed. When built up this corner will be one of the best business districts of the town and will form a fitting entrance to the town from the highway.

TWO MILLION DOLLAR PLANT ABOUT BUILT

Work on the mammoth cement plant here is nearing completion and will be almost done within the next eight or nine weeks, according to information received this week. The concrete has practically all been poured and the roof is being erected on the smaller building of the two which compose the plant. The forms for holding the concrete are still in place, and will be removed within the near future.

When completed the first unit will consist of three large buildings, the largest of which will be six hundred feet long. The height of the buil ings will vary, the tallest being 85 feet in height. A number of smaller buildings will be built later. Two other units the same size as the one now under construction will be built soon after the completion of the unit now under construction, if the plans now contemplated are adhered to.

This great factory will depend for its raw material almost entirely upon local materials. The shells and blue mud, both of which abound in the bottom of the bay, will be used in the manufacture of the cement. Great rotating kilns, which are already on the ground awaiting installation, will be used to combine the materials, which will then come forth as clinkers. The clinkers will be seasoned by storing for a period of time in a building whose roof is now being built this week. A huge conveyor shaft connects this building with another in which will be located the grinding machinery.

Foundations for a line of towers to carry the high voltage wires to supply the great factory are being laid this week by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and a substation to supply the plant will be built by that company immediately. It is estimated that the plant will require 3,500 horsepower when in operation.

The shoe is of grey velvet and formerly had a pink rose sewed on the front, the rose is now lost. The sole is pegged on with wooden pegs and the lace in on the side instead of in front. The heel was made of one thickness of leather.

OUR OUTSIDE TERRITORY

THE City Trustees are considering the advisability of taking into the municipal boundaries the tracts around the Five Point section of town. We should support the trustees in this movement. We have a responsibility in this direction. Our merchants supply the people of this district. The children are in our schools. Their sanitary conditions, or rather lack of sanitary conditions, are problems that should give us thought. We should care more for our own welfare than to let the sewage and water problems continue as they are.

We also should think of the children of this section who are growing up with our children. A place should be provided for them, where they can grow up as healthy, honest boys and girls. They play on the Woodside road and are a menace to passing machines. They seem to have little fear of their lives and cause passing motorists many pangs of fear and anger. We should take care of these children for they are our problem. So we recommend that a playground be obtained for them.

There are other reasons why this section should be taken into our municipality but we believe that the reasons stated will cause our people to support the proposition.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

CALVIN COOLIDGE of Massachusetts, president of the United States of America, will be the standard bearer for the Republican party in its endeavor to control the destiny of our country for the coming four years. No other choice could be made. Mr. Coolidge assumed the presidency upon the death of President Harding and so wisely has he guided the ship of state that he was the unanimous choice of the rank and file of his party. Even in California, Hiram Johnson, one of the most popular citizens ever put into prominence by the Golden State, could not overcome the popular insistence that Mr. Coolidge be given a second term.

A very few years ago Mr. Coolidge was unknown save to a handful of people in his native state. Because of a sterling character and an insistence that he should always be true to his trust, he was made governor of the Old Bay State. A strike by the police men of Boston and so ably did he handle that situation that be became at once a presidential possibility.

As president, Mr. Coolidge, has never tried to curry favir. He has vetoed bills that wiuld have brought ry favor but he has acted as he thought he should. He has thought only of the welfare of his country. He is not a selfseeking politician. He is an American who puts his duty before his chance of personal advancement.

Mr. Coolidge's life is an inspiration to every ambitious youth in the country. He has had to work hard since early childhood. He has attained his prominence through rigorous painstaking endeavor. He is an upstanding American. We hail President Coolidge as the typical product of our commonwealth. We are glad that we can support him for the presidency.

LIBERTY'S ANNIVERSARY

FIVE hundred and nine years ago tomorrow a number of English barons and knights gathered on the plain of Runnymede in Old England and compellel the king to sign the first charter of rights that was ever extorted from royalty by the common people. This charter, the Magna Charter of the Anglo Saxon race forms the foundation of our liberty today. It is the ground work of the American constitution and the germ from which popular government developed. In the Magna Charter the right of the king to levy taxes was limitel, as was also his power to make war. The person and property of freemen were safeguarded and the right of a person to his own beliefs stated. All during the intervening 500 years, influences of one sort and another have been tearing at the principles upon which the great charter was founded; have tried to subject the people to tyranny of militarism and to coersive creeds, but the rights of the Great Charter had a deeper root than the field of Runnymede. Inate in the Anglo Saxon character, liberty has flourished wherever the English language is spoken, and today the English speaking peoples of the world join in the celebration of the event which forever stamped the people of the "Tight Little Island" and their blood cousins of America free people.

KIWANIS EDITORIAL

ONE hundred years ago, the world was on the verge of a tremendous development of the mechanical sciences. Fifty years later invetnion was in full swing. Men had become intoxicated with the wonders of natural science, but in discovering the Universe were in danger of losing their souls. We forgot that the things we were finding had always been; that we were discovering physical forces, not creating them.

Pride took possession of us. We laughed at the simple faith of our fathers. We trod our little earthen ball as gods and worshipped our own intellects—the new idolatry.

We ate the apple of the Tree of Wisdom; the name of that apple is Pride. And we were hurled out of Eden Today, 12,000,000 men or more lie dead because we who thought we could rule Nature, could not rule ourselves. We are groping uncertainly through the temple we reared to the worship of ourselves. Attila came out of the east and has returned, but the city of our pride is fallen. On its ruins let us build another city, a fairer city, a city built not on changing scientific theories; but on that insistent command that thundered around the world from Gallilee: "Love thy neighbor as thyself!" Unless our civilization and all the works thereof be built on that immutable formula all the discoveries of all the professors of all the universities in all the cities in the world will be forgotten presently, and as utterly destroyed as the walls of Ilion.

SEQUOIA STUDENTS TO STAR IN THE CHARM SCHOOL

The first Senior play in two years will be staged next Wednesday evening, June 18, when the class presents, "The Charm School," the famous comedy by Alice Dver Miller and Robert Milton. This play has had extensive runs both on the professional stage and in the moving pictures when Wallace Reid starred in the role of Austin Bevans.

The story deals with the experiences of Austin Beven, an automobile salesman, who inherits a girls' boarding school, and proceeds to develop his ideas on the education of young women. Being barely out of his teens, coming in daily contact with his attractive pupils and yet bound by business exactions not to fall in love with any of them, Bevans finds himself in several difficult situations. How the story works out will be seen on the night of the play.

An exceptionally good cast has been chosen by Miss C. J. Boyle and rehearsals are now being held daily. Most of the young people in the play have had two or more years of experience in dramatics and this should insure better production than would otherwise be possible. Jack Wilson of Menlo Park, who has the leading male role of Austin Bevans, has had considerable experience in amateur theatricals at other schools as well as at Sequila. Bernice Martin who plays the lead for the girls will be remembered for her exceptionally fine work in the "She Stoops to Conquer," "The Mousetrap," and "Love Pirates of Hawaii." Oothers in the cast who have had erperience are Alfred Walker, who had leading roles in several operettas and played in "The Turtle Dove.' Robles Chisholm, who made such a hit as "Peter" in the play, "Neighbors." DeAlton Wentworth, Gladys Cronk, Grace Dearborn, Florence Lenorry and Christine Graves. The complete cast follows:

Austin Bevan	Jack Wilson
David McKenzie	Jack Kellogg
George Boyd	Alfred Walker
Jim Simpkins	Dan O'Connell
Homer John	Robles Chisholm
Elise Benedoti	Bernice Martin
Miss Hays	Margaret Kalenborn
Miss Austin	Dorothy Chilcott
Lally Boyd	Christine Graves

Girls at the School

Muriel	Marie Haccre
Ethel	Grace Dearborn
Alir	Florence Larroury
Lillian	Gladys Cronk
Madge	Loraine Michel

Admission to the play will be fifty cents. The entire lower floor is reserved and tickets should be exchanged for reserved seats either at Ryan's Drug Store or at the high school.

Cleaning Without Odor by the
F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

TEN MILLIONTH FORD TO CROSS COUNTRY

In celebration of having attained a 10,000,000 production record, the San Francisco branch of the Ford Motor Company announces that Ford car No. 10,000,000 will make a coast-to-coast trip as signifying the nation-wide popularity of the Ford car and its appeal to every class of driver.

The car will be shipped to New York within a day or two and leaving there will be driven across the country to San Francisco. The Lincoln highway has been selected as the official route of travel and stops will be made at most all the towns along the line. Frank Kulick, who years ago attained fame and broke many records as the pilot of Ford racing cars, will be at the wheel of the ten-millionth Ford, during the transcontinental trip.

The company was among the first to adopt the unit power plant and the left hand drive control, and it was the originator of such fundamental principles as the removable cylinder head, three-point motor suspension and torque tube drive, all incorporated in the model "T" and which have since been generally adopted in the automotive industry.

"The correctness of these basic features has been strikingly proven by the fact that in the entire ten-million production, while improvements have constantly been made, there never has been any deviation from the original principles of the Model "T", remarks Goodwin, local Ford manager.

WOODSIDE NOTES

That the Skyline boulevard is approaching our King's Mountain road, we are made aware by the noise of the blasting and the column of smoke arising along the ridge where the engineers are clearing the right-of-way. Many fine trees have had to come down even in the narrow path of the roadway, but when the road is opened to traffic, we shall have at our very back door, a highway hardly to be surpassed in California for its scenic beauties. With the wide sweeping pacific on one hand, and the beautiful stretch of San Francisco Bay flanked by the Marin and Contra Costa hills and the Mt. Hamilton range on the other, with San Francisco at the north and San Jose at the south, while the nearer reaches of rolling land are studded with orchards and homesteads and country estates, there is little left for the imagination to desire in way of variety of scene.

Rev. Benjamin St. John, minister of the Woodside church, will leave the first of the week to visit his brother in Colorado. He will be gone about a month.

William H. and Lucius Morse are planning to start soon on a two month's vacation trip into the mountains.

Mrs. Henry McArthur gave a dance on Saturday night at Independence hall for a number of her friends from Palo Alto.

Mrs. Gertrude Gribayedoff and her sons, Paul and Reginald, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Audiffred.

Mrs. F. H. Mighall has been spending the week in the city as the guest of Mrs. George McArthur.

Joseph Hallett, Jr. was married on Saturday last to Miss Eva Debenedetti of Redwood City. They departed at once on their honeymoon, leaving a forwarding address.

J. M. Litchfield is determined to find water on his place at whatever depth it may be hidden. Having determined the location on the advice of all the water witches of the neighborhood, he has started an eight foot shaft aimed directly for the center of the earth. He has provided himself with electric hoisting apparatus and all necessary equipment for a complete job. Here's hoping he strikes a gusher.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church of Redwood City held its annual picnic here last Saturday. Games and contests and rambles into the hills occupied part of the time, but the greatest attraction of all for the children was the luncheon tables, and if they were able to assimilate all the ice cream and cake and candy they ate without having recourse to the paregoric and jamaica ginger bottle, it is merely a commentary upon the splendid digestive apparatus furnished by Mother Nature to her youth.

James M. Maguire, a veteran examiner of merchandise of the port of San Francisco, was here on Wednesday on an official visit to the Law estate on the Alpine road to appraise a large number of antiques brought from foreign countries by Mr. Law. Mr. Maguire is one of the best experts of the country on antiques, his judgment always being upheld by the government.

BURGLAR HELD TO HIGH COURT

T. Eugene Blair, carpenter, charged with attempted burglary of Hull Bros. hardware store here last week, was held to answer to the superior court following a hearing Wednesday afternoon before Police Judge Albert Mansfield of this city.

Blair had just finished a seven-day sentence for possession of a bottle of wine and was about to leave the jail when arrested on the more serious charge. He was immediately brought before Judge Mansfield, who ordered him locked in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 cash bail or $2,000 bonds.

More fuss is made over a repentant sinner than a life-long saint. Maybe there is a moral in this.

Too many blessings in disguise are so effectually disguised that nobody ever finds out they are blessings.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The purchaser of the old Burke ranch near Portola, consisting of 250 acres is Joseph Macdonough, who owns the Macdonough stock farm close by comprised of 1500 acres. Joseph Macdonough is a New Yorker, and is now traveling in Italy. His young son has charge of the property here. The elder Macdonough was born in Menlo Park and in his young manhood moved to New York, where he added to his great wealth. His mother was a sister of William O'Brien of the Comstock fame. She inherited a big portion of the Bonanza King's wealth. O'Brien was a bachelor, never having been captivated by the fascination of woman. His vast estate was divided among his sisters. Mr. Coleman, mother of the late James V. Coleman, was another sister, who secured a large share of the estate. Frequently Mr. Macdonough visits his birthplace for which he has a loving tenderness on account of his early associations here.

Laurel Court, the attractive home of Miss E. Noel, was sold last week to Mrs. F. E. Cameron of Hong Kong, China. The sum of $75000 was paid for the property and the sale was consummated by S. W. Crozier, the real estate broker of Redwood City and San Francisco. Mrs. Cameron is very wealthy, having amassed a fortune in the hotel business in Hong Kong, where for the last eight years she conducted the Carleton hotel, a fashionable resort. She is originally from England, but for a number of years she has lived in San Francisco and China. She has made eight trips to the Orient. Mrs. Cameron is a lover of dumb animals, having large kennels of cats and dogs, and a large number of birds of every Oriental specie. A plumber is at once to put in a heating system for the pets that they may not suffer in being transferred to the colder climate.

Mrs. Cameron is planning many improvements on the property. It will be conducted as a fashionable hotel. Another story is to be added to the old mansion and thirty three-room cottages are to erected around the grounds, a swimming tank put in, and golf links constructed for the comfort and amusement of guests. On all the entrances to the place are to be erected huge electric arches. The big ball room to the rear of the home used by the officers of Camp Fremont during the war is to be the scene of numerous merry parties. Guests from all parts of the world will come to enjoy the beauty spot and the comforts that will be provided by the management. Laurel Court is to rival the hotels of Pasadena and other southern resorts.

Laurel Court in days of long ago was known as the residence of foreign diplomats, where aristocracy was wined and dined in most elaborate fashion. The large halls and spacious dining rooms rang with the merry laughter of gay consuls and European diplomats. There royalty was entertained in a prodigal manner. In the very early seventies Lemon Meyer, an importer and also a consul for a South American country, acquired the land surrounded by streets and with this also he bought the property known as the Mills tract. He planted locust trees on both sides of Oak Grove avenue and also on Ravenswood avenue and for years these towering trees have been the beauty and attraction of Menlo Park. Of late a number have been cut down by recent purchasers of lots facing on Oak Grove avenue. Meyer in the eighties sold the property to Mr. J. Gansel, a gay bachelor and an Austrian consul of great wealth. He maintained a stable of thirty horses here, his turnouts being the finest ever seen on the peninsula. His entertainments were the swellest of the swell. He was a society leader, and he surely led a pace. Saturday evenings the wide lawns would be a scene of merriment with a throng of society people from San Francisco dancing and singing and making merry. Gansel was a good spender and the local trades people regretted his leaving. He was transferred to another part. The place was not to lose any of its gayety, for Gansel leased to a Russian consul named Olaraviski. He was even gayer than his predecessor. The character of his entertainments were lavish and elaborate and big sums were spent in one night's enjoyment. The Russian certainly knew how to entertain his guests and diplomatic friends.

Gansel finally sold the property to Edgar Mills, a Sacramento banker and a brother of D. O. Mills. He led a quite life entertaining quietly. Mills made the first division of land in Menlo Park, subdividing the land now known as the Mills tract and a strip of land fronting on Oak Grove avenue. The late real estate auctioneer Easton had charge of the sale, and in one day disposed of every lot in the tract and strip for big prices. This was the beginning of the subdivision of property on the peninsula. In those days Menlo Park was surrounded by the lands of wealthy people and there was no property for sale for love or money, hence the successful sale on that memorable day in the later eighties. Mills had two sons and a daughter. Young Edgar Mills while attending Yale met with a tragic death, embittering the final days of his aged father. The other son, D. O. Mills is living in Washington, while the daughter is married and lives in England. After the death of the elder Mills, Miss Noel bought the holding and since then has greatly improved the old mansion that in days agone housed the royalty of Europe and the social elete of California.

Grass hoppers have made their appearance in the hills near the Alpine district. The insect pests are destroying every blade of grass in their wake. All the pasture around La Honda has been devoured by the hungry hopper. Ranchers are alarmed. With the drought and the invasion of the pest, the farmer is having a difficult time.

The grammar school closes for the summer vacation on June 20th with appropriate exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Laumeister have gone to Bath, Maine, to visit Mr Laumeister's daughter who was born in Menlo Park. She resides at that place. She is Mrs. Ernest Haskell. Her husband is a Stanford man.

F. C. Caine, president of the Menlo Park Improvement Association, was busy all week securing data regarding the shifting of the telephone poles on El Camino Real. He has discovered that this matter could be adjusted by the State Railroad Commission. These hideous poles are eyesores to the town and should either be removed or put under ground. One of the objects of the association is to deal with this problem. The line of poles may be rerouted. This would be an improvement. L. H. Cook, the local electrician, has secured the probable cost of the proposed electric sign with "Menlo Park" on it to be located at the entrance to town. These matters were discussed at a meeting of the association last evening, and action taken at once. Other contemplated improvements are to be considered. The officers of the new organization are: F. C. Caine, president; J. C. Brown, vice president; Mrs. J. B. Gladstone, secretary; Mrs. Emma J. Stribbling, financial secretary; and Miss Ada Scott, treasurer. Over one hundred members joined the roll and more are expected to sign next week. Mr. Caine believes the organization will reach the 200 mark.

William Feeley, Jr., an overseas veteran and chief gardener at the Charles A. Shurtleff estate, was run down by an automobile at the intersection of the highway and Glenwood avenue Tuesday evening. He was thrown from his bicycle and severely bruised. He is recovering.

The Marionette Players of Berkeley, under the auspices of the Menlo Park branch of the National Council of Catholic Women, will give two shows in the Hall of the Nativity today. There will be two performances, the first at 2:30 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 15 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

At the matinee the players will give "Hinka Danka and the Cabbages," and "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves." The evening program is to include "Hinka Danka," and "The Singing Master." "Hinka Danka' is a clever tale written by Eugene Schutt; "Ali Baba' is the old fairy tale arranged by Jean Du Pont, and "The Singing Master" is a translation by George Fletcher Clark from the French of Alphonso Crozier.

Twenty-one boys were graduated from William Warren School Wednesday afternoon. Informal exercises were held in the assembly hall at 2:30 o'clock, the address to the graduates being made by Headmaster Cliffard E. Dennis. Because of the fact that Henry Volante of Dunsmuir, a pupil of the school, had come down with an attack of the measles in San Francisco, it was thought best to curtail the commencement program, although no other pupils were known to have been exposed to the disease. The graduates were: Elbert Ames of Burlingame; David Blair of Buffalo, N. Y.; Jack Burg of Richmond; Benjamin Carter of Yokohama; Raymond Charles of Plainfields, N. J; Kirk Clagstone of San Mateo; Franklin Dewey of Alameda; Lloyd Dow of Alameda; Herbert Fleishhacker of Atherton; Douglas Jardine of Pasadena; Benjamin Marshall of Eureka; John Mitchell of Eureka; Wade Morton of San Francisco; John Nowell of Burlingame; Thomas Proctor of San Francisco; Albert Pearl of Eureka; Ross Smith of Berekeley, Ashton Stanley of Del Monte, Dwight Trowbridge of Fresno; Frederick Von Schlegell of Pasadena, and Kenneth Wallace of San Francisco. The annual summer camp of the Warren school will be held at Lake Tahoe from July 1 to September 1.

Two graduates received Bachelor of Arts degrees from the Sacred Heart college Monday. They were Miss Lucile Fox of Santa Barbara and Miss Katherine McGarry of Los Angeles. The certificate and highest literary honors in the junior college were awarded Miss Ruth Redman. Ribbons of honor in college and high school went to Miss Harriet McCormick, Miss Mary Katherine Conroy, Miss Adelia Leet, Miss Marie Louise Bourrett, Miss Evelyn Fox and Miss Beatrice Ludlow and Miss Margarita Espinosa and Miss Redman. Addresses were made by Bishop John Cantwell of Los Angeles and Professor Aurelia M. Espinosa of Stanford University.

Earl G. MacBain, son of the late Edward MacBain, was married in San Francisco on Wednesday to Miss Isabella Taylor. Both reside in Burlingame, where the mother of the groom also lives. Some years ago the young man lived in Menlo Park, and is well known on the peninsula. The bride is unusually beautiful. This is Mr. MacBain's second voyage on the sea of matrimony.

The engagement of Miss Edna Taylor, the pretty and charming daughter of Mrs. Stewart Lowery, formerly Miss Edna Hopkins, and Bliss Rucker, son of Mrs. J. H. Rucker of San Francisco but formerly of San Jose. The wedding is planned to take place in July.
